AIM.

To make every school in Morgan County as good as the best school in Morgan County.

(To do this will necessitate the sacrificing of many individual preferences and prejudices, but it's worth while.)

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. A consolidation of some of the small one-teacher schools where located too close together.

(The law contemplates four miles as a minimum, and efficiency demands as much. A three-teacher school can ordinarily render three times as good service to each pupil as a one-teacher school.)

2. A more liberal maintenance to support a longer school year.

(The children of the rural districts deserve it and the taxable property of the county can well afford it. People are more important than property.)

3. More attention to the organization and direction of Boys' Corn Clubs and Girls' Canning Clubs in co-operation with the Department of Agriculture.

(It will pay to keep in close and active touch with these practical educational movements of the National Government.)

Note: Some conditions reported herein will provoke inquiries that should be answered by those most immediately concerned, such as irregularities of attendance at some of the schools, etc.

SUPT. AND MRS. E. S. BIRD.

How the County Seat Appreciates the County Teachers.

It is well worthy of note that there exists in Madison, the county seat, a Woman's Civic Club which appreciates the rural school teachers. Under the leadership of its President, Mrs. E. S. Bird, this club has provided and maintains an attractive Rest Room at the City Hall where all the rural teachers are welcomed when in town. The club has also generally entertained the teachers at luncheon and in other ways on the days of their regular monthly teachers' meetings. The citizens enter heartily into these attentions to the rural school teachers of their county.

Morgan County.

Morgan was among the earliest counties to adopt county-wide local taxation; and the entire county, excepting only the municipality of Madison, has for 6 years been operated under this system. This includes several small towns and villages with good high schools. Compare the progress attained and the rate of the local tax levy (two mills) with other counties where the district system prevails.

County-wide local taxation means not only a more liberal financial maintenance, but also a stronger central unit of administration. The degree of school improvement attained here was possible only under these conditions, and should be sufficient proof to commend the plan to other counties.

Beginning the survey of the public schools of Morgan County the second week in May I had only two weeks before their closing dates. Such limitation prevented the possibility of any very thorough inspection of the work being done in the schools. This survey, therefore, has to do mainly with the physical conditions of the schools and some other features the investigations of which did not necessarily depend upon the schools being in session. The ending of the school year, however, did make it possible to incorporate in this report the number of days that each pupil attended during the whole school year, to which I particularly invite the close attention of the patrons concerned.

Physical Conditions.

The photographs given herein do not fully portray the physical efficiency attained at these schools, as at some of them many things had been accomplished that no picture could fully show, while at all of them the greatest improvements were to be seen on the inside. Even where they are still occupying old and unsuitable buildings their interiors have been made sanitary, comfortable, and beautiful in every instance. Indeed, some of the oldest and most unsuitable buildings, which are being used only until better ones can be built, have been so transformed inside as to afford a most pleasant surprise to any casual visitor. As for instance in the case of the Walker School, where temporarily a tenant house in a field is being used, we found the windows carefully screened and tastefully curtained; the floors well oiled; the wall well ceiled and hung with intelligently selected framed pictures and school decorations, such as pennants, flags, etc.; single desks of suitable sizes and properly spaced; globes, maps, charts, etc.; and a well cared for school garden of small dimensions in the yard.

Neither can any picture show all of the beauties of the well-planned school gardens, yards, play grounds, sanitary toilets, and other improvements accomplished at nearly all of the schools of the county, or the manner in which both grounds and buildings are kept. In the proportionately large number of school buildings that will measure up to best ideals in school architecture; in the sanitary, comfortable, and attractive manner in which all of the grounds and buildings appear to be constantly kept; in the number and sanitary condition of school toilets; in the matter of school equipment, and in the number and character of school gardens, Morgan County stands in the very forefront. In these important respects I have not yet seen any county that quite equals it.

A Model Country School.

Probably the one school in the county that has accomplished the most in all of these respects, and is, therefore, serving its community best, is the Bethany School. We do not think it an exaggeration to say that a visit to this remarkable rural school plant would be worth as much to the average rural school teacher as an attendance upon a short session at any good Normal School. Any fair report that I can write of this and several other schools of the county will seem exaggerations to the reader who has not seen them. There are, doubtless, as satisfactory conditions to be found at many other rural schools in Georgia, but probably not so many of them in any other one county.

Supervision and Administration.

The teachers, pupils, and patrons deserve much of the credit for these gratifying conditions, but such uniformly good conditions could not have prevailed throughout the county without strong and intelligent administration. Without a doubt great credit should be accorded to Superintendent E. S. Bird and Supervisor C. S. Parrish. Both superintendent and supervisor have worked constantly, persistently and intelligently with teachers and patrons for definite ends, and have accomplished them. The supervisor has in this county attempted far more than the regular monthly institute work with the teachers, for she has also visited all of the schools of the county with the superintendent, inspecting and directing the work throughout the county. The superintendent has kept up a constant visitation to his schools, devoting his entire time and energies to their interests. Teachers, pupils, and patrons have generally responded heartily to such active interests in their respective schools, and have given proof of their appreciation by their active co-operation.

A Commendable Spirit.

There is noticeable throughout the county a spirit of loyalty and school pride that is most helpful to the cause; and in each respective community proportional to the degree of efficiency attained in the school plant. This would seem to be both a cause and a result, and certainly most gratifying. This shows up strongest among the pupils, and is promoting their proper education.

The beginning of progressive movements for the public schools of Morgan County probably dates back to 1909 when the county voted "For Local Taxation" for the support of her schools. A year previous to this the county voted "Against Local Taxation," but upon the second election, like a number of other counties in the State, the measure carried by a safe majority. The school tax rate has never been above two mills (the present rate levied), and often lower. The county received last year from the State $17,469.87, and the local tax levy added to this, $6,810.63, making a total school fund of $24,280.50. This has enabled the Board of Education generally to pay off the teachers promptly, and hence to secure good teachers.

The Teachers.

With a reasonably liberal maintenance fund secured through county-wide local taxation, and with a reasonably short school year, the Board of Education has been enabled to secure good, trained teachers for practically all of their schools.

A careful study of the teaching force of the county system shows 50 teachers employed, of whom one holds third grade license, three hold second grade license, and forty-six hold first grade license. Twenty of these teachers have had regular training at one of the State Normal Schools, while seven others hold A. B. diplomas from standard colleges. Several have had post-graduate courses at some of the great universities. With only two or three exceptions these teachers have all had two or more years' experience.

Standard Schools.

It is worthy of special note that fifteen of the county's schools have been standardized. In this respect Fulton County only stands ahead of Morgan.

The Braswell Fund.

In 1867, under the will of a Mr. Braswell, there was left to the Ordinary of Morgan County a fund of about $5,000.00, increased later by Mrs. Kolb to about $8,000.00, to be used for the education of indigent orphan children of the county. This fund was so wisely invested and managed that it now amounts to about $80,000., notwithstanding that it is used to supply tuition, books, stationery, etc., for all orphan children of the county.

MADISON PUBLIC SCHOOL, MADISON, GA.

Building: Modern brick building; eleven class rooms; sewer connections.

Grounds: A plat of about six acres; beautiful shade trees on the front and ball park, tennis grounds in the rear.

Equipment: Patent desks throughout; teachers' desks; dictionaries, etc., for the grammar grades; primary department well equipped for the work; chemical and physical laboratories for the High School; one of the best school libraries in the State; sanitary drinking fountains.

Library: Endowed by Mrs. Sara B. Cook, a lady who taught in Madison just after the war. The amount of the endowment is $1,000.00, the interest being used absolutely for the purchase of books. The money is invested in a well-secured 8 per cent loan. The library has now eleven hundred volumes and is being increased at the rate of about 100 per year. These books are well selected.

High School: Four year High School, fully accredited in the Southern Association of Accredited Schools. The High School Faculty consists of four teachers and half of the time of the Superintendent. All these teachers are A. B. college graduates, holding certificates of the highest grade.

The work of the school is departmental from the seventh grade through the High School.

The High School enrollment is 20 per cent of the entire enrollment of the school.

The number of graduates for the past three years has averaged 16 per cent of the High School enrollment.

High School Department.

Faculty: J. H. Purks, Supt. and Department of Mathematics (A. B. Emory). J. D. Nash, Prin. and Department of Foreign Language (A. B. Mercer). E. W. Strozier, Department of Science (A. B. Emory). Miss Elise Gibbs, Department of English (graduate State Normal; special work at Chicago and Columbia). Miss Nell Henry, Department of History (A. B. Maryville College and special work at Knoxville).

Grammar Grades.

Faculty: First Grade: Miss Peytona Douglas (special work at Knoxville, Athens. Second Grade: Mrs. Sue Ashford (Normal School and Athens Summer School). Third Grade: Miss Adelle Pennington (graduate of Shorter College). Fourth Grade: Miss Indie Harrell (graduate of Brenau and summer work at Knoxville). Fifth Grade: Miss Maude Massengale (graduate Gordon Institute). Sixth Grade: Miss Pearl Epps (State Normal summer work at Knoxville and Athens). Seventh Grade is done along with the High School as departmental work.

Enrollment: Present enrollment 295.

Board of Education.

President Hon. H. W. Baldwin.

Vice-President, Mr. M. L. Richter.

Mr. C. M. Furlow.

Mr. H. T. Shaw.

Mr. P. M. Atkinson.

Mayor M. F. Brooks, Ex-Officio.

Athletics: The student body seems very much interested in athletics. Basket ball, base ball, and track events are the main features. The teaching force appropriates this interest in the school room work. The Madison High School course is so arranged as to articulate well with the State Course as it operates through the seventh grade in the rural school. The spirit of co-operation between the Madison City Schools and the County System of Public is beautiful. What is of interest to the one is felt to be of interest to the other.

STANDARD OF EFFICIENCY FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

The following minimum standard of efficiency for rural schools arranged by the State School Superintendent has been largely used as the basis of measurement in the survey.

"Educational results and good teaching generally are not often secured in a shiftless looking building in which neither patrons, pupils, nor teachers take any pride. Indefiniteness has been removed at this point through the standard school. In the larger towns and cities pressure of public sentiment and the comment of visitors will sooner or later force good educational conditions—and they are improving constantly. Rural Communities need to be shown and inspired by educational leaders and we have sent diplomas to more than one hundred county schools where the superintendents have certified to the fact that they have measured up to the standard in every particular. Fulton, Newton, Morgan and Hancock have received half of these, and there are a number of localities in the State where the feeling is that no rural community in the county is able to bring its school up to these very reasonable requirements. I cannot help but think that this is a mistaken view and that some standard schools could be secured in every county in Georgia and that these would serve to inspire the others to progress. Superintendents have written that the use of this efficiency test has developed more progress in the past twelve months than for years previous in the way of improvement. The plan is of no value, however, where it is not used or applied and I earnestly hope we will have the effort at least of every superintendent in the State to have his county represented on this roll of honor. The list will be published in the next Annual Report. The standard is not unreasonably high and no more than the Georgia parent has the right to expect. Copies should be posted in every county school room in the State and can be secured for this purpose at any time on application to the State Department of Education. To be entitled to a diploma a school should measure up to the standard in the following particulars:"
